teacher

Gelong Changchub Phüntsoq is senior monk and disciple at Rabten Choeling monastery (www.rabten.eu). We are happy that he will come to our centre in the Hague and share his knowledge with us: not just the theory, but also the actual practice of the teaching.

the course

This course is the follow-up on the course of March. We continue on the topic of Patience. This is an important quality, for everybody. In Buddhism however, this quality is taught in particular. Patience is the antidote against hatred and dislike. So, if we wish for less aggression and conflict in our lives and in the world, then the only route is to practice patience. This is not a passive attitude, but an active state of wisdom and compassion.
